1. PURPOSE

- 1.1. To appoint a service provider to Supply, deliver and Off-Load Materials to support Separation at Source covering eight (08) Metropolitan Municipalities for a period of three (03) months

2. INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

- 2.1. Section 24 of the Constitution of South Africa states that everyone has the right to an environment that is not harmful to the health or well-being; and to have the environment protected, for the benefit of present and future generations, through reasonable legislative and other measures that prevent pollution and ecological degradation; promote conservation and secure ecologically sustainable development and the use of natural resources while promoting economic and social development
- 2.2. South Africa is facing a major solid waste management crisis that requires action from all spheres of government in collaboration with civil society, the private sector and academia. According to a 2012 World Bank Report, South Africa was identified as the world's 15th largest waste generator. Globally, the total amount of municipal solid waste produced in cities (densely populated urban areas) is growing even faster than urbanisation is occurring and is likely to almost double by 2025, going from 1.3 billion tons per year to 2.2 billion tons.
- 2.3. South African cities face a crisis with landfill space in the country whereby some are expected to run out in six years if drastic steps are not taken to reduce the amount of waste generated significantly and to accelerate recycling efforts.
- 2.4. Despite there being an enabling legislative environment for South African cities to separate waste at source, the challenges of inadequate human and financial resources, poor execution and lack of enforcement of existing regulations and by-laws persist across all metropolitan municipalities. In addition, according to the 2012 World Bank Report, the financial value of the formal South African waste sector (both public and private), which is estimated to be as high as R15.3bn or 0.51 percent of South Africa's gross domestic product (GDP), as well as the economic potential of the waste sector has still not been fully realised.
- 2.5. South Africa is experiencing severe constraints in terms of the availability of landfill space, as well as challenges in operating and decommissioning landfills in a manner that is compliant with licensing conditions. Commissioning and operating new landfills is a significant cost for local government and is often resisted by communities neighbouring potential sites. Furthermore, once disposed of in landfill, waste is no longer economically productive, and, in the absence of landfill gas capture, landfills generate methane which is a potent Greenhouse Gas.

- 2.6. Municipal solid waste management in South Africa is still dominated by waste disposal in landfills. Landfills are running out of space to dispose of waste and are under pressure due to increasing waste volumes associated with urbanisation, population-, and economic growth. Diverting waste away from landfills reduces the volume of waste disposed, extends the operational life of the landfill, and more importantly, unlocks economic opportunities (including recycling) for waste materials in a circular economy. In this regard, the 2020 National Waste Management Strategy (NWMS, 2020) calls for the separation of municipal solid waste at source while “strengthening and expanding the role of waste pickers e.g., through integrated separation at source, in the waste management system and recycling economy”.
- 2.7. Diverting waste from landfills is one of the pillars of the NWMS 2020. South Africa's strategy for the diversion of waste from landfills is based on building a secondary resources economy around the beneficiation of waste as part of the circular economy.
- 2.8. Through waste picker integration, the waste sector can contribute to the country's GDP while mainstreaming and ensuring inclusive growth. Waste pickers are already helping municipalities save landfill space and budgets under the informal and often difficult conditions of waste collection. waste pickers collect more good quality materials through separation-at-source initiatives in municipalities.
- 2.9. While there is initiation of separation at source programmes in metropolitan areas, its effect is not yet at an expected level. The National Waste Management Strategy 2020 stated that South Africa faces the following challenges with respect to waste management: Littering ,illegal dumping and Low levels of separation at source.
- 2.10. All metropolitan municipalities (City of Tshwane, Ekurhuleni, City of Joburg, City of Cape Town, Mangaung, Buffalo City, Nelson Mandela Bay, City of eThekweni) have initiated separation at source programmes but at different levels, and it is known that metropolitan municipalities have more recyclables hence the DFFE, through this project seeks to increase the level of recyclables diverted from the landfill sites to support the circular economy concept. The recyclable materials are required in order to assist the municipality in increasing the number of households participating in the separation of waste at source. There are also local municipalities which have enrolled separation at source and there are future intentions to roll in others who have not started through the extended producer responsibilities.
- 2.11. Barriers to sourcing the separation of household waste were identified as follows:
- 2.11.1. Problems in the collecting system of waste,
 - 2.11.2. Lack of responsibility among citizens,
 - 2.11.3. Insufficient awareness among citizens, and
 - 2.11.4. The expectation of receiving incentives for separating the waste.

3. OBJECTIVES

- 3.1. Separation at source (S@S) of municipal solid waste by residential households has been identified as an important pre-requisite for recycling provided local governments/municipalities motivate and encourage high levels of public participation, therefore the objective of this project is to ensure that different types of recyclables are not contaminated and are separated at source.
- 3.2. The project will assist municipalities to ensure that numbers of households participating in separation at source are increased, to ensure that waste pickers who have been incorporated in the separation at source programme as they will benefit from clean and non-contaminated materials, and this will assist in building the recycling economy and improving livelihoods through integration of the informal sector
- 3.3. To educate and raise awareness to households regarding proper handling of domestic waste for separation at source as well as for the need to minimize waste and promote recycling.
 - 3.3.1. Separation at source (s@s) produces a more homogenous and higher quality waste stream which is less contaminated by other materials, and easier and less costly for recyclers to recover
 - 3.3.2. This in turn represents the country's waste diversion from the landfill and contributes a higher value to recycling markets/economy therefore this will support resource recovery and landfill diversion targets

4. SCOPE AND EXTENT OF WORK

- 4.1. The appointed service provider is expected to supply, deliver and offload materials within the required South African National Standard (SANS) 1728 specifications
- 4.2. The material will be required within 3 months of the appointment
- 4.3. The appointment service provider will be required to submit the samples of materials prior production of the materials
- 4.4. The materials are to be delivered in all 8 Metropolitan municipalities by the appointed service provider
- 4.5. The delivery and offload of materials are to be done by the service provider and will be verified by the project manager and the waste management officer of the municipality.

NB: The appointed service provider will be expected to deliver in all Metropolitan Municipalities.
